

GGS

GERMAN GRADUATE SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT & LAW

THE INNOVATIVE

Business School

Welcome to GGS, the innovative business school for working professionals in management and law.
We are delighted to introduce you to our institution, our programmes, and our approach to leadership development.

Part-time education for working professionals is a trend that companies and society have to embrace. The same goes for the call to educate people not only in their fields of expertise but also in personal and corporate responsibility. With these aims in mind, we specialise in the fields of management and law, offering both part-time degrees and executive education.

Prof. Dr. Dirk Zupancic

President

Professor of Industrial Marketing and Sales

We work in close partnership with our students and our corporate clients. In our master's programmes, students integrate professional experience directly with coursework. Highly skilled international faculty and attentive staff provide the support students need to complete a postgraduate degree while working full-time. In our General Context Programme, students find inspiration and opportunities for personal growth. Through Executive Education we offer wide-ranging and innovative options: individual Senior Executive Coaching, open enrolment and in-house seminars, webinars, corporate university programmes, certifications, and more. Our partners benefit from our expertise in designing educational formats exclusively for working professionals.

Therein lies our core competency, as manifested in our faculty, guest faculty, services and infrastructure. All our activities are connected to research, and we insist on high-quality research into innovative topics with direct practical application. We present our findings at international conferences and publish in scholarly journals while also targeting a clear impact on business practice.

For us, science and practice must be mutually beneficial. The same applies to our own doctoral programme with the European University Viadrina and our doctoral collaborations with institutions such as the University of Mannheim, University of St. Gallen, University of Bamberg, University of Hohenheim. This brochure will give you an overview of our various endeavours. We look forward to engaging with you at your company, at trade fairs and events – or during a visit to our Campus for Lifelong Learning, the Bildungscampus, in Heilbronn.

Sincerely yours,

Dirk Zupancic

Our School

We are an innovative business school specialising in management and business law, located in Heilbronn in the midst of one of Germany's most successful economic regions.

What We Stand For

We educate responsible business leaders. We conduct research into the success factors behind world market leaders and generate knowledge, particularly with regard to our key concerns: innovation, entrepreneurship, and compliance.

Your Future in Focus

We guide entrepreneurs, business leaders and students toward the knowledge and personal strength demanded by the global economy. We support you as you identify the right questions to ask within and on behalf of your company and as you find the best answers.

“Personal best performance and the right partner in education

“Business success means *courage to lead
and innovate.*”

The German Graduate School of Management and Law is a project of great importance to me. To stay ahead in international competition—now more intensively than ever—we have to educate gifted young adults and nurture management talent so that they can realise their full potential as the next generation of business leaders.

The German Graduate School of Management and Law is a university with a business school curriculum that attracts and motivates young people and managers in this region and beyond. It is a place where administrators, professors, lecturers, students and staff work together in a goal-oriented and unbureaucratic manner. Excellence and efficiency are its strengths. As a private business school, GGS takes advantage of the flexibility afforded by the sponsorship of a foundation, a freedom that allows it to develop, test, and implement new ways of integrating discovery, knowledge, learning, and practice. A business school with an innovative and international attitude, GGS is a place of intercultural learning and understanding. Here we promote not only the coming generation of business leaders but also the economically vibrant region of Heilbronn-Franken.

Dieter Schwarz

“Business School Meets Real Life.”

Degree Programmes at GGS.

All degree programmes at GGS offer rigorous, thorough and practice-oriented education in the fields of management and business law.

In addition to the primary subjects of study, your personal development receives close, individualised attention.

Your Success is Our Goal

If you are a university graduate (cooperative university, university of applied sciences, or university), if you are looking for a master's degree that fits with your full-time job, and if you know the value of perfect support given by highly qualified professionals, then we are the ideal partner for you. Our international faculty from leading business schools prepare you for new challenges and guide your development as a responsible business leader who sees well beyond regional boundaries.

Programme Format and Design

The weekend format with occasional one-week modules allows for an ideal synergy between work and study. Take advantage of our small class sizes, where faculty can pay close attention. Pursue your master's degree under optimal conditions.

Mentoring and Feedback

Continual advising and regular feedback on your academic progress and achievements are at the core of the programme. Our faculty pay close attention to your development, and our ever-growing Alumni Association is at your side. We are all focused on the same goal: your personal growth and your mastery of important leadership and decision-making skills.

Everything You Need.

We're there for you – ready to share the latest from research and practice, to offer advice and support, and to direct you toward the information you seek. Our online eLearning platform and eLibrary, and of course direct contact with us, will keep you in the loop. We are there for you when you have questions or need assistance, whether it's something about your studies or a matter of the day-to-day.

Real Life Learning

You will be able to integrate your own job situation directly into our course content throughout the programme. In small groups you will have the opportunity to discuss your own work experience. As you hear about the challenges faced by your classmates, you will find insights and analyses that you can apply to your own work. Together we solve the real challenges you face.

Expertise

Take advantage of the academic and practice-oriented expertise of our professors, guest professors, and lecturers, who will tailor their teaching to your needs. Place your own potential in their hands as they accompany and support you in your development as a responsible business leader.

Visiting Faculty

Through our close international relationships you will have access to a range of highly qualified experts from leading universities around the world. Well over 50 guest professors and lecturers offer an extraordinary wealth of knowledge and experience.

Work-Study-Life Balance

We know the importance of a healthy work-life balance and will help you reconcile your career and your personal life. A successful professional career is like a marathon. Since sports are an integral part of a work-life balance, our extracurricular activities not only include lectures, social events, Faculty Days, and General Context events, but also a wide range of sports activities.

Staying Connected

Join the dynamic GGS Alumni Association and stay connected with your peers and faculty well beyond your degree programme. Keep your edge, use your contacts, and converse with faculty, students and graduates. Attend regular events, make new friends, and enjoy the company of like-minded peers.

1. Success and Responsibility Master's degrees for successful business leaders who seek to develop both expertise and social responsibility.

2. Part-Time Programmes for Working Professionals An ideal synergy between your job and your studies is made possible through weekend courses. It's our specialty, and people notice it from the first day.

3. International Best Practices GGS faculty and guest faculty from international universities adhere to the teaching standards of top business schools.

4. Interdisciplinary Our faculty's expertise brings management and law together, and we can tailor interdisciplinary offerings that meet current business demands.

5. Innovative We innovate through research, fresh programme design, and novel methods of teaching and learning.

6. Scholarships Generous scholarships from the Dieter Schwarz Foundation facilitate the financing of your education.

7. International Study Tours Company visits, talks and discussions at top international universities, as well as unforgettable encounters with other countries and peoples.

8. Modern Teaching Methods Interactive learning in small groups based on challenges and tasks encountered by students on the job (Real Life Learning).

9. Work-Life Balance A broad array of services to help you keep on top of your studies, your job and your life.

10. Alumni Association A vibrant career network and more: exclusive lecture series, excursions and international study tours, gatherings, and dialogues on management.

“GGS’s practice-oriented instruction is exactly the right method to prepare me for a position in management.”

Ramin Mirza, MBA
Senior Account Executive
SAP Deutschland AG, Walldorf

From Those in the Know...

Ana Cristina Zimmermann, MBA

Head of Marketing & Sales

Fripac-Medis GmbH, Spiegelberg

"My degree from GGS has been critical to my career development. My company entrusted me with responsibility early on. Now, thanks to my MBA, I'm moving into a leadership position. My studies at GGS prepared me perfectly for this step."

Karl-Heinz Schwarz

WITTENSTEIN AG, Igersheim

"Training and professional development for our employees are very important because we need an increasing number of well-educated staff to support our company's growth. Beyond that, Lifelong Learning is part of everyone's personal and professional future. We are delighted to be building our cooperation with GGS. We are pleased to support staff members who have spent a number of years on the job and now seek a master's degree. With GGS as a partner, these students are in the best hands."

Prashant S. Pawar, MBA

"The MBA program offered by GGS is 100% in English, and specialization options provided perfectly suit my expectations. Learning methods are tailored to the needs of working professionals, and most important for any student are the faculty members, I can only say, 'awesome'. All professors whom I have met so far are expert in their respective areas and provide a great deal of support to ensure that the topic is well understood by the students."

Heike Hodapp, MBA

"If I could decide all over again, I'd still choose the MBA programme at GGS. The format fit perfectly with my full-time job. GGS's international faculty were excellent, and the exchange among students from different fields and industries added tremendous value on both the academic and the personal level."

Manuel Friedmann, MBA*Real Estate Director*Kaufland Foundation & Co. KG, Neckarsulm

"I especially like the energy and start-up feeling at GGS. Management and the whole team are highly motivated and dedicated. The top-level accreditation, the promising opportunities, the excellent facilities and naturally the teaching style here all help me to prepare for the next management tasks and to gain a better understanding of my business environment."

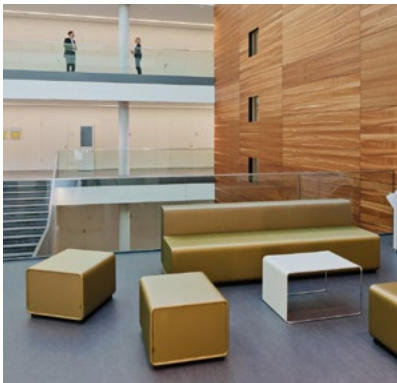

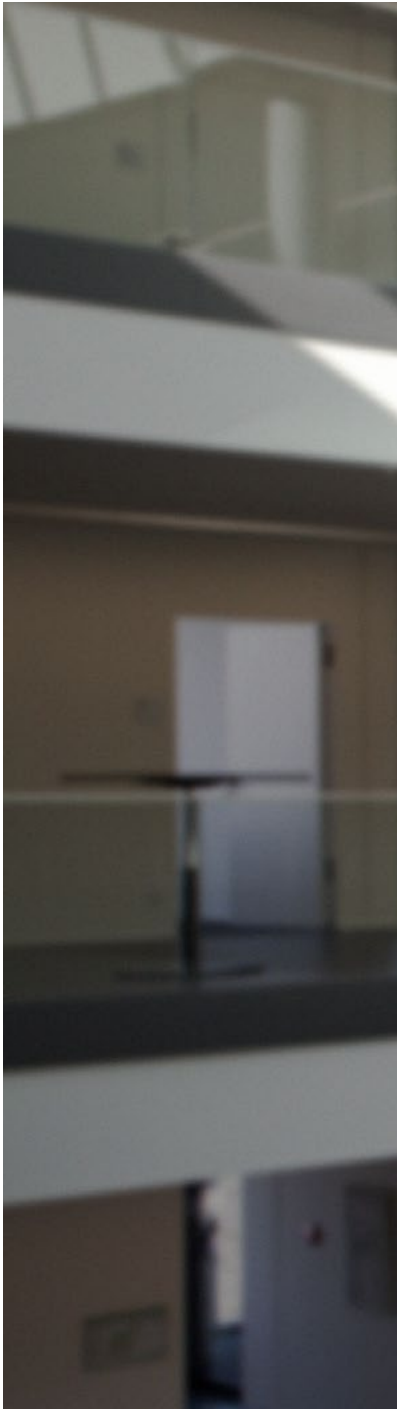

Degrees:

Our MBA (Master of Business Administration) is open to graduates with a first degree (bachelor's or equivalent) in any subject area and at least three years of work experience. It is designed for people who want to take on new management responsibilities.

Your pathway to becoming a business leader with special know-how is the MSc in Management – Retail Logistics, Service Management or Technology and Innovation Management, and you can start right after your bachelor's.

The Leeds MSc in Business Management, offered through our partnership with the Leeds University Business School, is an excellent option for students who wish to continue at the master's level directly after their bachelor's degree without prior work experience.

The LL.M. in Business Law is for non-lawyers who confront the complex interplay of business and legal matters in the corporate environment and seek further qualification to meet these challenges.

All degree programmes reflect our high quality standards and are certified by major accreditation organisations. GGS master's degrees are accredited by FIBAA, the MSc programme by AACSB, AMBA and EQUIS. Additionally, further international accreditations are underway, and the German Council of Science and Humanities exercises continual oversight.

Master of Business Administration (MBA)

Leaders and entrepreneurs aren't simply born as such. The MBA degree will unleash energies in you and in your company that you didn't even know were there – all to the benefit of your customers and yourself. The MBA programme, designed to complement a full-time job, will equip you for challenging management tasks, sharpen your entrepreneurial awareness, and develop your strategic approach to situations. Together we will tap your innovative potential and refine your decision-making skills. With these advanced skills, you will be able to recognise conflict before it escalates and better manage crisis situations. You will expand your personal and professional networks. And you will accomplish all this without limiting your creativity or losing sight of your professional commitments.

The optional International Summer Academy takes an intensive look at current management issues and brings you together with students from our international partner schools.

Join the Team – Renew Your Energy

A healthy work-life balance means taking time to rejuvenate after the demands of your studies and your workday so you can prepare yourself for new challenges. Whether it's the dragon boat races, the Trollinger Marathon, or the City Triathlon, you will find something in our programme that's right for you. Join the GGS-Masters Team and experience team spirit in a whole new way.

Responsible Leadership – Heilbronn Management Dialogues

Liz Mohn, Wolfgang Grupp, Franz Fehrenbach, Oliver Kahn, Reinhard K. Sprenger, Götz W. Werner and Richard David Precht are just a few of the presenters who have addressed compelling management topics in the Heilbronn Management Dialogue series. Selected guests attend these exclusive events and enter into dialogue with our prominent speakers about what it means to lead responsibly in organisations and in society.

Faculty Days – a Unique Tradition at GGS

Join classmates, alumni, GGS professors, visiting international faculty, and staff of the German Graduate School of Management and Law for our annual Faculty Days gathering. Workshops, networking, and celebration are the main events during our traditional day of dialogue, reunion, and new connections. And, at the graduation ceremony, you will proudly receive your master's diploma.

International Study Tours – New Horizons

During our International Study Tours we leave familiar locales behind and go to places of discovery and encounter in the business world. Pack up and take off with GGS on a memorable international trip. Observe other countries and experience new cultures. Visit renowned universities and steal a look behind the scenes at local companies. Get to know your travel companions and take advantage of the opportunity for in-depth interdisciplinary discussion and networking. Whether it's China, the USA, Brazil, India, South Africa or Turkey – it's an annual highlight that students and alumni won't want to miss.

Executive Education

Entrepreneurs and business leaders find themselves in an increasingly dynamic and demanding environment. We believe that solid continuing education in management and law plays a decisive role in the success of firms and organisations. Therefore, in addition to our degree programmes, we offer executive education.

We offer a wide range of courses to meet the needs of companies, managers, and junior executives including open-enrolment programmes and customised programmes tailored to your company. Our faculty and executive education partners are selected specifically for these programmes. Using the best pedagogical strategies, our courses emphasise practical applications.

A Few Examples:

The compact, intensive seminar “B2B-Marketing and Sales” or the “Young Leadership Certificate” for high potentials.

GGG Online Seminars take a one-hour in-depth look at a series of topics, such as “Top Performance in Sales” and “Intercultural Competence” as well as legal topics like “Information Management for Lawyers” and “Whistleblowing between Labour Law and Protection of Privacy”.

A company-specific programme for the BERA Corporate University. GGG faculty and BERA staff work together to provide regular modules in labour law, controlling, marketing and other topics in general management.

A further in-house programme is Lpple Talent Management. Selected high potentials from Lpple and its subsidiary Fibro receive talent development training for future leadership roles in the company.

We maintain partnerships with renowned universities and serve as a location and partner for continuing education courses. One example is the Sales Manager Diploma HSG (Diplom Vertriebsmanager HSG), a collaboration with the University of St. Gallen. Our collaborations with other universities are based on shared research projects and ensure a high quality standard. Our executive education offerings are rounded out by a broad spectrum of talks, management dialogues, and presentations on current topics of interest

From Those in the Know...

Stefan Peter

Papyrus Deutschland GmbH & Co. KG, Ettlingen

"Using its innovative educational design, GGS identified the necessary competencies and systematically built a training programme to get the whole company working in a sales-oriented way. Modular course structure, varying methods and teaching formats, top-notch experts, and highly individualised support make GGS an ideal education partner for us."

Dr. Peter Spahn

Speaker of the Board

LÄPPLE AG, Heilbronn

"We have benefitted from our collaboration with GGS on a number of levels: Not only through growth in knowledge directly from the seminars but also through developing our understanding of company-internal networks. Using a competency model, GGS tailored an educational plan to fit us perfectly. As a Mittelstand firm, we were looking for a pragmatic and service-oriented educational collaboration. By giving us demanding content in a productive way, GGS proved to be an outstanding partner."

Ralf Peter BeitnerChairman of the Board*Kreissparkasse Heilbronn

"Our employees are our most valuable resource. They are responsible for creating and managing relationships with our customers. That's why we invest intensively in their professional development. GGS provides everything we expect from a modern educational partner – extensive knowledge, individuality and practice-relevance all supported by the latest in scholarship. Our success in executive education shows that GGS is the right partner for us."

Bernd H. Rath*CEO*BERA GmbH, Schwäbisch Hall

"Running a corporate university as an individualised form of professional development is often reserved for large corporations. Yet the BERA Corporate University developed in collaboration with GGS offers us multiple advantages: our corporate university is customised to meet the increasingly complex demands of our industry as well as the individual needs of our staff. Master's-level material is addressed through practice-oriented instruction, all the while developing awareness of company-internal networks."

Dr. Thomas Jendges*CEO*SLK-Kliniken, Heilbronn

"We are very satisfied in our collaboration with GGS. Particularly for our pilot project in executive development, we benefitted from the great flexibility offered, for example in the selection of faculty instructors. The faculty worked closely in both content and organisational matters to meet the individual needs of the participants as well as our requirements as clinic operators. Positive feedback from our participants supports our intention to expand the programme with GGS."

Research

Generating Knowledge

at GGS.

Research and teaching go together. Researchers who pursue new understandings and test them both in theory and in the real business world are the ones remain current in their teaching. Researchers who are passionate about their work can ignite the interest of others. At the same time, an excellent researcher needs to be able to share discoveries and deliver them where they can be used. Working closely with companies, we define the questions that matter most now and those that are likely to matter in the future.

Getting to the Bottom of Things: How Do (World) Market Leaders Endure?

Stay curious, always look for new insights, discuss your work with others, and implement your results: Whoever keeps these practices will have lasting success. This holds especially true for research into the disciplines of management and law with their constantly changing contexts. Following these principles, we conduct research to learn what enables firms to achieve long-term market dominance. We focus in particular on the impact of innovation, entrepreneurship, and compliance. Top-notch academic journal publications and intensive interaction with practitioners attest to our values: Research should be rigorous and relevant, ambitious in method, and applicable.

Focus Themes for GGS Research: Innovation, Entrepreneurship, and Compliance

We conduct intensive research on innovation management. The development of inter-firm networks and their impact on the effectiveness of innovation processes plays a central role. Through critical dialogue with the world's leading experts and constant discussion with leading innovators, our colleagues are steadily advancing in their work and gaining renown. The same is true for our research activities into entrepreneurship and compliance system design. A number of other undertakings have the attention of both scholarly and business communities: The GGS Investment Lab conducts research into corporate venturing and growth financing, the Equity Forum serves as an exchange platform for researchers and practitioners, and GGS research projects look into how firms handle compliance requirements.

Advancing the Next Research Generation

Long-term investment in research has a pay-off for us. That's why we actively promote the next generation of researchers. Our doctoral students from our joint programme in "Dynamic Capabilities and Relationships" with Europa University Viadrina as well as our research associates find optimal conditions for their research undertakings. International conferences and doctoral colloquia in Germany and abroad combine with individualised methods training and intensive interaction with our professors.
